EDITOR J. M. KERR is determined to keep abreast of the times, and will change the name of his paper, the Jessamine Journal, to the Progressive Kentuckian. He is not satisfied with running along in the "old rut," and is determined to get out of it, if possible.

MATHEWA, the colored lawyer of Albany N. Y., who was appointed Recorder of Deeds for the District of Columbia by President Cleveland, has one of the richest plums in the gift of the President. Real estate is booming in Washington, and Mathewa rakes in, on an average, about $100 a day in the shape of fees. November 24 the fees footed up the sung sum of $250. At the present rate, the office is worth in the neighborhood of $40,000 a year—almost as good as the Presidency.

"Visitus is its own reward. Since various counties in Kentucky declared in tavor of no license, amazing reports hate been spread abroad concerning the discovery of valuable minerals in that State. The latest story is that it has been found that the streets of Paducah are paved with diamonds—or if not diamonds, with the same coarse gravel in which the diamonds of Australia and Africa have been found imbedded. Already many diamonds in the rough have been forwarded to the Smithsonian Institute, and the country is ablaze with excitment. Bourbon County diamonds promise to be as famous as the whisky of that tilk, and less dangerous. Thus is Kentucky virtue rewarded and—well, three will be as much drinking as ever, on the sly,"—New York Mercury.

Or the "free trade" bugaboo, the New York Mercury justly says: "There is no question of free trade before the country. There has been none—except in Henry George's books—for a generation. There has never been a measure offered in Congress which contemulated an approach to free trade. No one knows this better than the Tribune—that mosgrown organ of monopoly and taxation—yet it keeps on calling the Democracy a party of free trade when it knows that it falsifies the record. The people cheerfully pay a tax to support the government and only begrudge what they pay to support monopolities and private corporations. This is the position taken by the Democratic party, which insists upon returning to the people the enormous surplus yearly wrenched from them in the shape of taxes. This common sense business proposition is simply incontrovertible."

Another Railroad Enterprise.

A party of railroad engineers has just returned to Catlettaburg, K.y., from a trip across the mountains of Eastern Kentucky to meet another party of engineers from Johnson City, Tenn. In the latter party were J. T. Wilder, of Chattanooga, Vice President of the Charleston, Cincinnati and Chicagorailroad, and Colonel Thomas E. Matson, its chief engineer. The latter located the route and built the road from Johnson City to the famous Cranberry iron mines after three oher skilled engineers had gone through the country and decisred the construction of a way impossible.

An Alleged Mason Countian.

David Cummings, the celebrated diamond robbe who served a fav years term in the Kentucky penitentiary, and who worked on the Kentucky Central Railroad as a convict during its construction through this sounty, has reconsily been sent to prison in London, England, for robbing a hotel. His term at Frankfort expired last year. He is said to be an adve of Mason County and was undoubtedly the most daring their and robbet Kentucky ever produced. When his term expired at Frankfort it was known that he had diamonds valued at $400,000 hidden away, buttal efforts to get him to give them up proved unavailing.—Clark County Democrat.
